FINE FRAGRANCES™

About Excelsis

Excelsis was founded in 2005 by Frederick J. Hass, M.D. for the purpose of producing and marketing a cologne made from the original formula of Pope Pius IX (1792-1878). He called it The Pope's Cologne. The historical background of The Pope's Cologne caught the immediate attention of the news media, with major stories appearing in The San Francisco Chronicle, The New York Times, The Wall Street Journal, The London Daily Telegraph, and even was featured on the national television show "CBS Sunday Morning" with Bill Geist.

Soon people from around the world were purchasing and enjoying this fresh, new fragrance from the past.

In his research on The Pope's Cologne, Dr. Hass became fascinated with the history and art of perfumery and the wondrous fragrances of real essential oils. He began to make fragrances of his own. "I began to dream in fragrances." This led to his creation of new and unique fragrances of his own.

His research led him to sampling perfumes at the counters of Nordstrom, Macy's and Sephora. "What I came to realize very quickly is that all of these expensive, famous brand perfumes smelled the same because they all share the same synthetic bases. At the same time I found that my own new fragrances, using real essential oils, were better, more pleasing, more complex, more interesting and clearly distinct from one another."

Excelsis Fine Fragrance

EXCELSIS fragrances are made from the finest essential oils from the far corners of the world. Among them: frankincense from the Arabian peninsula, lavender from France, bergamot from Italy, vetiver from Indonesia, linden blossom from Germany. Employing the methods of Old World perfumers, the various oils are artfully blended to create astonishingly pleasing fragrances with depth, character, balance and complexity. Combining oils with varying volatility results in fragrances that come to life and evolve after being placed on the skin, changing and delighting as the day progresses from morning to night.

We think that our colognes are tasteful and elegant.

We know of no finer colognes anywhere, at any price.
